Spanish Plays. 107 volumes. 4°. 1654–1822
These volumes, containing many rare Spanish Plays of the 17th & 18th centuries, have been catalogued under this heading for convenience, without separate entries.
They include a collection which Mr. J. R. Chorley formed & presented to the London Library; & also that presented by Mrs. G. H. Dawkins, part of which had previously belonged to Mr. W. B. Chorley.
While many of them have MS. titlepages (which, however, have been neglected in the following entries), & notes, by Mr. J. R. Chorley, five alone are relatively complete & have printed titlepages, viz. 9, 15, 18, 19, 100. [9, Parte Qvarenta y vna, De Famosas Comedias De Diversos Avtores. Pamplona. n.d.*; but imperfect.—15. t.p. wanting. Parte Quarenta de Comedias. Madrid, 1675.—18. Quinta parte de comedias escogidas de los mejores ingenios de Espana. Madrid, 1654.—19. Spencer (Herbert).
A system of synthetic philosophy.
The following is the scheme of the work, which is inserted here for clearness. Entries follow the scheme under the names of the respective divisions.
In the Preface to v3 of "Principles of sociology" (q.v.), which, in point of time, was the final vol. of the work, Mr. Spencer says: "The series included under that title [viz. The Synthetic Philosophy] is complete & yet incomplete. The first two volumes of the Principles of Sociology [i.e., according to the programme] have expanded into three, & the third (which, if written, would now be the fourth) remains unwritten. It was to have treated of Progress."
